Third Sunday in Ordinary Time

January 24th, 2021

The kingdom of God has come; Repent, and believe in the good news.

Mark 1.14-20

Sunday Focus: Prepare each day for the end of our earthly lives. There is an ancient practice of reflection on mortality that goes as far back as Socrates: Memento Mori, or, Remember, thou art mortal. Today’s Scriptures are perfect for the Christian spiritual practice of thinking about our life, and eventual death – a reminder that our ultimate goal in faith is to live with God after this life. Awareness of our own mortality should spur us to act righteously each day. LITURGY OF THE WORD At God’s command, Jonah goes to Nineveh, prophesying destruction. The citizens of Nineveh repent and are spared. Saint Paul urges the Corinthians to act in a way that reflects the passing away of this world. In the Gospel, Jesus arrives in Galilee, proclaiming the time of fulfillment has arrived, and that all are to repent, and believe in the Gospel. The Apostles Simon, Andrew, James, and John leave their lives as fishermen to follow him.

Being a disciple means being constantly ready to bring the love of Jesus to others, and this can happen unexpectedly and in any place: on the street, in a city square, during work, on a journey. Pope Francis

January 24th is:

Sunday of the Word of God: Making the Scriptures part of our everyday lives.

In order to help the Church grow in love and faithful witness to God, Pope Francis has declared that the Third Sunday in Ordinary Time be devoted to the celebration, study and dissemination of the Word of God. We are invited to hold the Word of God in our hands every day as much as possible so that it becomes our prayer and a greater part of our lived experience.

“A day devoted to the Bible should not be seen as a yearly event but rather a yearlong event, for we urgently need to grow in our knowledge and love of the Scriptures and of the risen Lord, who continues to speak his word and to break bread in the community of believers.” “We need to develop a closer relationship with sacred Scripture; otherwise, our hearts will remain cold and our eyes shut, struck as we are by so many forms of blindness,” Pope Francis

“Follow me and I will make you fishers of men.”- Mark 1:17 Jesus’ call to “Follow me” is a call to all Christians! The call is in the here and now, in our present circumstances, not when we think we are “ready” or have everything in order. Good stewardship of our God-given gifts means that things aren’t always going to go according to our schedule and that God has a much better plan in store for each of us. Copyright © 2021 Archdiocese of St. Louis from RCAFV

Deus Caritas Est - God is Love Women's Faith Study

In his first encyclical, God Is Love, promulgated on Christmas Day, 2005, Benedict XVI expounds on the reality of love. This 8-week faith study is an opportunity to come to a deeper understanding of what it means to be loved by God, and how God’s love is present in the concrete reality of our daily lives. Join us for this wonderful opportunity to meet other Catholic women, grow in fellowship and friendship, and go deeper in your relationship with God. There are two separate offerings for this study: Thursday mornings beginning Feb. 4 at 11:00 am – 12:30 pm OR Thursday evenings at 7:00 pm - 8:30 pm. Both sessions will take place online over Zoom. The Sanctuary Course for Catholics -One in four people will be affected by a mental health problem at some point in their lives, yet the stigma surrounding mental illness silences many and prevents faith communities from responding compassionately and effectively. This eight-session course—designed for use in small groups—explores the realities of mental health and illness, as well as the vital need for faith-based community conversations about these topics. The sessions are accompanied by compelling films that feature the stories of Catholics living with mental health challenges, along with the insights of archbishops, theologians, and psychologists including Archbishop J. Michael Miller, CSB. The Sanctuary Course for Catholics is launching on FORMED in January 2021. FORMED is a technology platform for the delivery of award-winning Catholic content, children’s programming, audio talks, e-books and more, attracting over 1,000,000 users across 5,500 parish communities. Pope at Audience: Christian unity achieved only through God’s grace. In his catechesis at the Wednesday General Audience, Pope Francis reminds Christians that unity is achieved only with the grace of God, and not through our own force of will. As Christians around the world observe the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, Pope Francis reflects on Jesus’ invitation to overcome discord and sow reconciliation.

Speaking in the catechesis portion of his weekly General Audience, the Pope reminded everyone that Jesus did not command His disciples to be united, but rather prayed that they might be.

This, said the Pope, “means that we are not able to achieve unity with our own strength. Unity is above all a gift, a grace to be requested through prayer.”

Internal conflict

As the Apostle Paul observed, each of us experiences a painful conflict within ourselves, in which we desire the good but find ourselves inclined toward evil.

Our internal conflict, said Pope Francis, is a reminder that the true solution comes “by asking God for peace, reconciliation, and unity.”

He said Jesus prayed for His own, “that they may all be one” (Jn 17:21).

“Our prayer for unity,” he added, “is thus a humble but trusting participation in the Lord’s prayer.”

External hardship

Pope Francis then asked us all to reflect on how often we pray for Christian unity.

“During this time of serious hardship, this prayer is even more necessary so that unity might prevail over conflicts.”

Christians, he said, need to pursue the path of visible unity, because the world will only believe in Christ if we bear witness “to the love that unites us”.

Fighting for unity

“To pray means to fight for unity,” said the Pope. This means fighting against the discord and division which the devil seeks to sow by magnifying the defects and mistakes of others in our eyes.

God, however, offers another path. “He takes us as we are, different, sinners, and nudges us towards unity.”

So, Pope Francis invited everyone to sow unity in our homes and workplaces with the tools God has given us: “prayer and love.”

In Christ’s love

Finally, Pope Francis reflected on the theme of this year’s Week of Prayer for Christian Unity: “Abide in my love and you shall bear much fruit.”

“The root of communion and love is Christ who makes us overcome our prejudices to see in others a brother or sister to be loved always,” he said.

By seeking unity, we find that Christians of other confessions are gifts from God.

“Let us begin to pray for them and, when possible, with them,” concluded Pope Francis. “We will thus learn to love and appreciate them.”
